

ROOSEVELT'S PLIGMARAGE WEST

Places Himself Directly In Opposition to Vice President Sherman

SPEAKS AT UTICA GRANGE PICNIC.

Warmly Endorses State Senator Davenport, Staunch Progressive Whom Sherman Says He Will Not Support—Ten Thousand Persons Welcome Ex-President With Roar of Applause—A Talk to the Farmers.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt would up the first day of his pligmarage into the west by placing himself directly in opposition to Vice President Sherman. Speaking today in the vice president's own county, he warmly endorsed State Senator Davenport, a staunch progressive, whom Mr. Sherman has said that he would not support. Mr. Sherman was out of town, and did not see Colonel Roosevelt.

It was late in the afternoon when Colonel Roosevelt reached Summit. He was met by a large number of farmers, and a summer resort set up high on the bluffs overlooking the Mohawk river.

Attends Grange Picnic.

Ten thousand persons who attended the grange picnic today were waiting for him and raised a cheer as the figure of the ex-president appeared on the platform. He was warmly welcomed along the way from New York to Utica by a cheering throng of farmers. How a Politician Can Really Serve His Party.

Colonel Roosevelt spoke Senator Davenport at once and greeted him warmly. As soon as he began his speech he turned to the senator and said: "I am glad to see you on the platform, Senator Davenport. The only kind of politics in which decency is combined with efficiency. I hold that the only way in which a politician can really serve his party is by helping that party efficiently to serve the people. Because the senator and the men who have a right to have good government for this principle, I am glad to be on the platform with him."

There was more cheering as the colonel uttered the words. When he could be heard he said: "You will at least notice that my utterances are free from ambiguity."

Then the colonel proceeded with his talk to the farmers. As soon as it was over he hurried off to the Henderson house at Jordenville, Herkimer county, the place of his brother-in-law.

MINNESOTA LEADS IN DEMAND FOR POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS
